3)Ugyencholing Heritage House

Location: Ugyencholing Palace and Museum, Tang Valley, Bumthang, Bhutan

The Ogyen Choling Heritage House started operation in 2016. The Ogyen Choling manor built in 1898, is a historic, cultural site, with its origin going back to the 14th Century. The central tower of the manor was converted to become the first private museum in Bhutan. It was opened in 2001.

The Ogyen Choling Heritage House is an ideal place for guests interested in the history and culture of Bhutan, guests who appreciate the special setting with the calming spiritual ambiance and the solitude off the beaten track. Ogyen Choling is also the starting point for different day treks.

The Ogyen Choling Heritage House has guest rooms in 3 buildings.

- The Nubgothang building in the west gate field which was previously used as a private guest house. It has 4 rooms.
- The Hermitage with 2 bed rooms and a common living area. It was built in 2004
- The shagor (two storied building enclosing the central tower) has 8 guest rooms. The dining room, the kitchen and a meeting room are also located in the shagor.

The rooms are cozy and well furnished with basic amenities and there is plenty of outdoors space to soak in the spiritual ambience, peace and tranquility of the natural surroundings. Their restaurant serves the most delicious dishes of traditional Bhutanese, local specialties and a fusion of Indian, Chinese and Continental. From the Lodge one can enjoy the picturesque valley, traditional farmhouses with colorful farmlands and the meandering river.
